Kirkland, WA (July 17, 2006). Windowworks, Etc. LLC, your home services specialist providing exceptional home maintenance services for owners of fine homes in Seattle and the Eastside, is proud to announce the opening of their new Window Defoggers division. This new division is the first authorized Window Medics dealer in Washington State. The Window Medics technology allows us to offer our customers an effective, low-cost, ecologically sound alternative to window replacement for foggy window condensation problems.

Window Defoggers is now servicing residential and commercial customers in Seattle and on the Eastside with a well proven process that restores a window's clarity and insulating R-value by expelling moisture and cleaning the interior glass of failed thermal pane windows. Once a window has been defogged a proprietary one-way valve is installed to insure that the window remains clear. Window Medics backs the process with a transferable lifetime limited warranty.

"I have seen so many failed windows over my years of window washing," says Brett Hutton, CEO of Windowworks, Etc. "In the past, the only solution was for my customers to spend hundreds and thousands of dollars replacing their windows when they failed. I am really excited to now be able to offer them an ecologically sound, much less costly and time consuming solution. Now we can fix a window as soon as we see that it has failed. My customers don't have to wait for a new window to be ordered before their view has been restored. In addition, they no longer have to throw away windows that are only 5 or 10 years old, instead we offer a lifetime guarantee thereby extending the useful life for years and years."

Windowworks, Etc. has served Seattle and the Eastside for over 20 years, offering window, roof and gutter cleaning, pressure washing, window repair and tinting and holiday light hanging. The new Window Defogging service is a perfect fit with their business since their window cleaning team is on the front lines every day and can catch windows as they fail.

Window Medics International is the largest thermal window pane restoration company in the world, with over 100 service locations and nearly 200 technicians in the USA alone. They have training facilities in Minneapolis, MN and Ottawa, ONT.
